LEWIS C. JOLLEY

DEDICATION

As the school year draws to a close, student enthusiasm for the approaching vacation is dampened not a little by the realization that the career of one of Alameda High's most beloved instructors will terminate in June. Students at Alameda High School from 1922 to 1957 have known and appreciated Lewis C. Jolley. His energetic interest in and work with student activities have made him a fixture in Hornet life and tradition. Football and basketball seasons will not be the same without his familiar figure at the gate, greeting old friends and former students, bantering with visiting officials and occasionally slipping in a destitute juvenile, free of charge. Block "A" and Faculty picknickers will always remember "Jolley Bread," a fabulous method of preparing French loaves for never-ending consumption. Generations of Hornet trackmen have experienced his enthusiastic approach to his first love, Track and Field. After innumerable Alameda County Athletic League and North Coast Section championships, the fruitful track coaching career of Mr. Jolley reached its zenith in May, 1954, when the Alameda High track team, led by America's finest high-school sprinter, James Jackson, won the California State Meet, a feat never before accomplished by a Northern California High School. Earlier in the year Jackson had tied the National record for the 100 yard dash, a record which had not been equaled since 1933. Although the effects of his coaching were easy to evaluate from the results taking place on the track, few people paused to realize that long hours had also been spent by "Lew" in helping his boys to overcome numerous personal problems with which they were beset. Here was that "extra 10%" which it takes to produce a champion. As a champion, you leave us, Lewis Clayton Jolley, and to you this Acorn is most affectionately dedicated with the feeling that you will probably be the most active "retired" teacher in the history of education.

DR. DONALD M. RODERICK
Superintendent of Schools

If It Were Not For These Directors,

As we, the students of Alameda High School, look into the future, we see the roles in life that we are about to play.

The stage of life is set; the footlights of education, religion, music, and art continue to shine. The producers and directors are giving last-minute instructions. It is now curtain time, but before the play is presented, we shall meet some very important people.

The warning signal is given, the curtain rises, and so now I present to you, the students of Alameda High School, "Our Sponsors," Dr. Roderick and the Board of Education. Through the years these six persons have arduously kept burning the great footlights of life. The times have been rough, but as always "the show must go on," and on it has gone under the wise leadership of "Our Sponsors."

BOARD OF EDUCATION—SEATED:

The Drama Of A.H.S. Could Not Be Told

Principal's Message

Will you qualify for college? If so, what type of college?

Never before has a college degree been a requirement for so many jobs, and never has the rush to get a degree been greater. Fifty years ago one youth in twenty-four continued his education after high school; now it is one in three. In our school it is about one in every two.

Your chances of getting into the college of your choice will depend on the choices you make in high school, and on how well you prepare yourself now. The important thing is to develop interest and drive. By the time you begin the ninth grade, you should have a good idea of your intentions so that you can plan your high school years. During the tenth and eleventh years you should begin listing the schools that you might like to attend.

You must have good grades. Colleges want students who have demonstrated in high school that they can maintain at least a "B" average in college preparatory subjects. As the competition for admission intensifies, so does the emphasis on scholastic rating. If you are not in the upper half of your class, you can be sure that your chances will be very slim of getting into the college of your choice.

You will have to take examinations to enter most colleges. Some use only the General Scholastic Aptitude Test, but others require that you take the college entrance examinations in specific subjects. If your marks in high school are good, your chances of successfully meeting these requirements are greatly improved.

You also must show evidence of good character. Admissions officers want to know what kind of a person you are. Are you emotionally mature? Are you a worthwhile candidate for higher education? What you do outside your courses is also highly significant. Choose one or two activities, work at them seriously, but do not neglect your studies. Outside interests will not compensate for low grades. Be prepared to meet the competition.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Hallock and Mr. Schneider, faculty advisers; to Carol Shumaker, Editor; Joel Champion, Business Manager; and to the other members of the Acorn Staff for their hard work during the entire year in the production of such a fine annual.

Assistant Directors Play

MR. DONALD BELL
Vice-Principal

Mr. Bell is a well-known figure about Alameda High School. As Vice-Principal he is not only busy with his administrative duties, but he supports our school at all functions. He serves as the advisor to the student body officers and the Men's Board of Control. His interest in each student is shown in his constant readiness to help in any way.

MRS. HELEN HOEKSEMA
Assistant to the Principal in charge of Instruction.

"Let's talk it over" is a simple statement accompanied by a kind smile, but to the students of A.H.S. it expresses much more: assurance of understanding, co-operation, and wise judgment. Our Assistant to the Principal in Charge of Instruction, Mrs. Helen Hoeksema, is kindness itself. She is the advisor to the Girls' Association and the Women's Board of Control, and a friend to whom we may turn at any time.

MR. EARL W. SHRIBER
Assistant to the Principal in charge of Attendance and Guidance.

"Graduation time is here again," and with it come more headaches for Mr. Earl Shriber, our Assistant to the Principal in Charge of Attendance and Guidance. But as always, it is a job well done. He is in charge of the box-office sales and the Auditorium Staff, as well as of keeping track of the attendance records of each student. This hard-working and understanding man will always be remembered by each one of us.

Many Parts Each Day

Mrs. Howell counsels Judy Hart and Bob Randall.

Mrs. Howell, the senior counselor, is advising Judy Hart and Bob Randall about college life. This is but one facet of a counselor's job; but, as usual, the counselors are always ready to help the student in every way, making the future easier through wise counseling.

COUNSELING DEPARTMENT

SEATED: Miss Frances Shockey and Miss Lucille diVecchio. STANDING: Mr. Chester Millett, Mrs. Charlotte Howell, and Mr. Richard Carey.

The counselors acquaint the incoming students with Alameda High School's traditions, orienting them for their new life here. Our counselors are very important persons, and the task given to them is that of being a personal consultant to each student throughout his high school career. They help the student to understand himself as well as others.

As the senior sits waiting for his diploma on that special night, he thinks of many things. Surely among them are the heartwarming kindness, interest, and understanding of his counselors.

Miss diVecchio talks with Ruth Totah.

Miss diVecchio is shown explaining the opportunities of a business career to a girl of Alameda High School. The scene illustrates another facet in the counselor's life, that of helping the student to find his place in the world, thereby benefiting himself and humanity.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

SEATED: Mrs. Courtney Smith, Mrs. Kathleen Putney, Miss Frances Shockey, Miss Marian Los Kamp. STANDING: Mr. Jerome Schneider, Mrs. Alma Pavid, Mr. Arthur Moore, Miss Leota Schroeder, Dr. Joseph Rediger.

English Is Important In All Life's Roles

Along with the ability of man to speak came the necessity for written communication. Alameda High's English department is concerned with teaching these fundamentals plus the skills of reading and listening. Teaching students to become more proficient in oral and written communication is the aim of every English teacher. Each student is helped to gain the ability to live in good accord with his fellow men.

We are very fortunate in having one of the finest English departments in the state.

As we develop these skills we shall be able to enjoy life more and make life more enjoyable for others whom we chance to meet.

English students find that there is more to their mother tongue than they had realized.

Foreign Languages Teach World Understanding

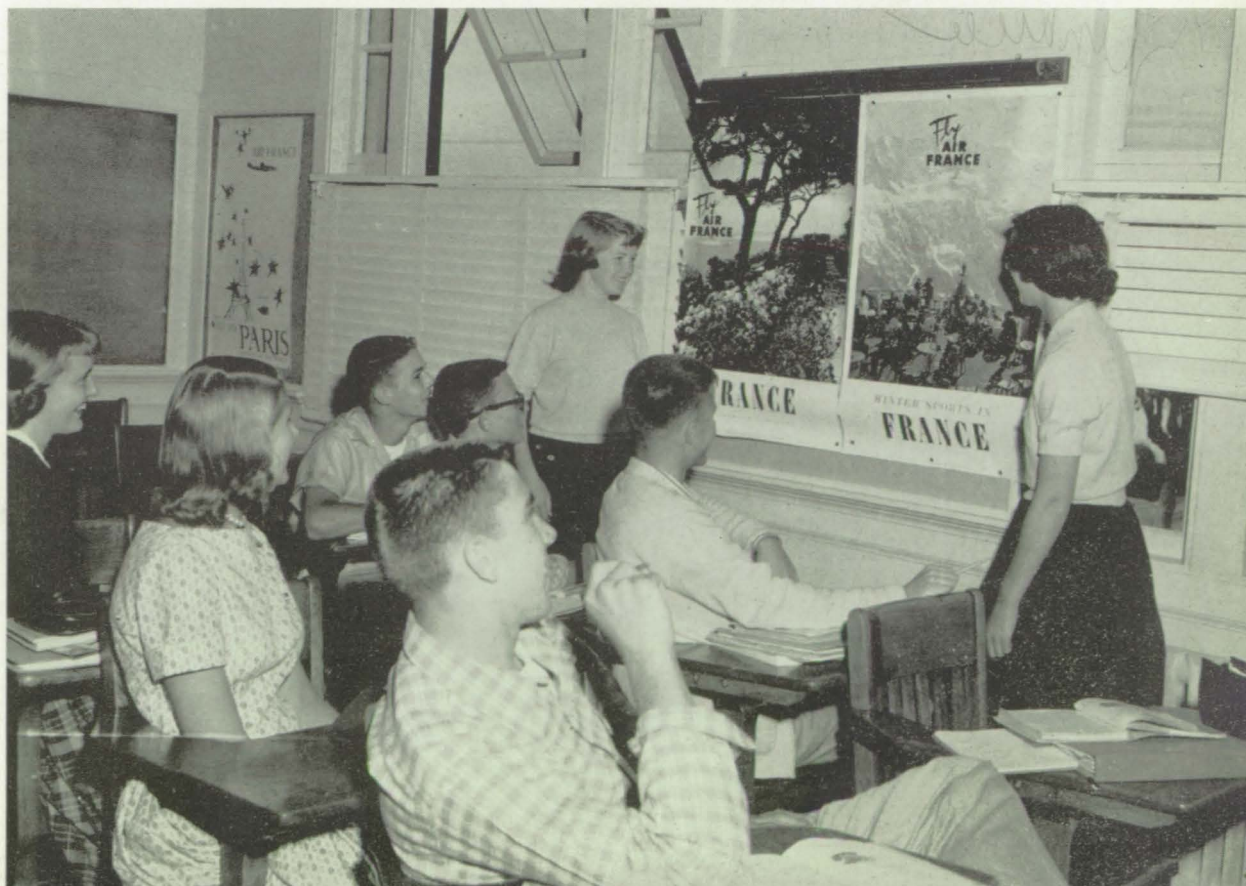

"All the world's a stage. . ." Relationships with foreign countries, which more and more people are enjoying, are bringing contacts with the different customs, attitudes, and problems of many nationalities.

We realize that to understand one another, we must first overcome the bar of language.

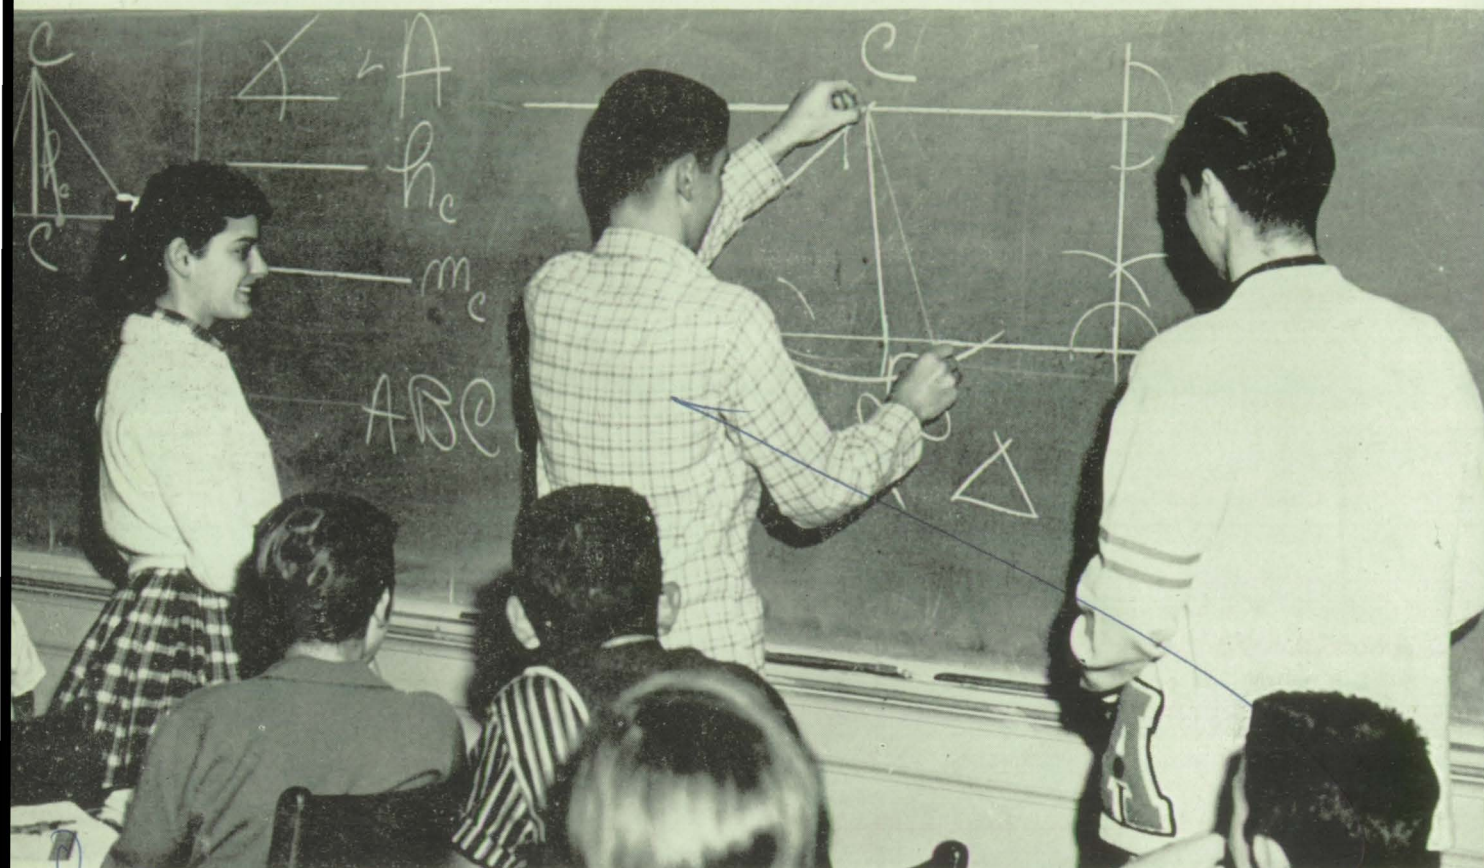

Como está usted? Perhaps you take Spanish. Très bien, merci; your French is always handy when reading menus. And just to round out the conversation, pax vobiscum, a famous Latin phrase.

Through our fine language teachers who help us to understand and communicate with other peoples, we gain one of the keys to world understanding.

French students discuss posters pertaining to points of interest in France.

New Horizons Unfold In Fields Of Mathematics

The subject of Geometry is being tackled in earnest by this class.

STEVE TULLOH

The drama of mathematics can be traced to about 17,000 B.C. It is believed that algebra originated with the Greeks and was passed on to the Arabs, and then to Europe and Asia.

Many different courses in mathematics are offered to the students of Alameda High, who are taught by some of the most experienced and highly trained teachers in the country. And although mathematics is very, very old, the courses are still very interesting and informative.

The fields of science and math are very important. More scientists and mathematicians are needed today than ever before.

Let's give the math teachers an encore for doing such a good job upon which so much of our progress will depend.

Have you decided which part in life you will play? In all probability you could be a doctor, lab technician, nuclear scientist, or engineer; but for any and all of these professions one needs the basic sciences: biology, chemistry, physiology, and physics.

All of these subjects are taught in a well-prepared and up-to-date manner by the fine science teachers of Alameda High School. Our science teachers are teaching us how to live in a better world of tomorrow in a better way.

A physiology class discusses the bone structure of the human body.

The band puts in many long hours of work in order to perfect its playing for school functions.

Our School Enjoys The Combined Efforts

Mr. Lloyd Sisler, Drama Dept.; Mr. Raymond Vidler, Band.

"The show must go on" is an old stage motto, and on it goes under the talented direction of Mr. Sisler. He passes on the grand art of showmanship.

The band had a very busy year with the football shows in the fall and the concert shows in spring. Stirring music was produced by our talented members under the fine leadership of Mr. Raymond Vidler, the band director at Alameda High School.

These future thespians learn under the expert direction of Mr. Sisler.

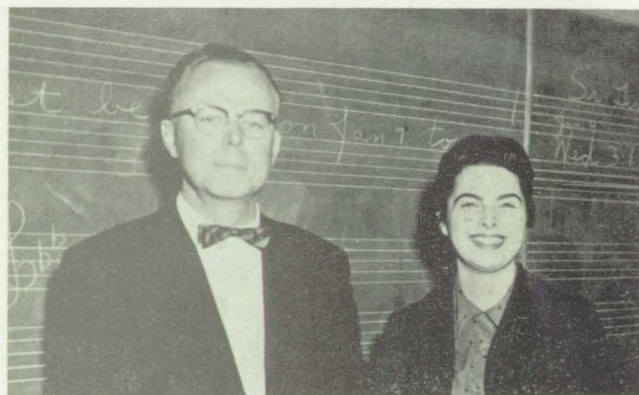

Miss Nicol directs and teaches many classes such as this one, the Vocal Ensemble.

Of Excellent Music And Drama Classes

There is always music in the air in the region of rooms 305 and 306. The orchestra rehearses with its strings, horns, percussion, and woodwinds blending together to create sweet music. It is led by the artistic Mr. Hansen during third period in room 306.

The vocal groups, composed of many of the A.H.S. students, possess an exceptional interest in music. Led by our fine choir director, Miss Nicol, they sing joyfully and enthusiastically.

Mr. Carlton Hansen, Orchestra; Miss Doris Nicol, Choral.

The orchestra spends many hours out of school in order to give its traditionally excellent performances.

Physical Education Develops Athletic Skills

GIRLS' P. E. DEPARTMENT

Girls prove that they can take a hefty swing at the ball.

The physical education program for girls provides the average girl with many activities during each semester. Students are taught the principles of teamwork, as well as the fundamentals of the various sports. In Modern Dance classes the girls learn to co-ordinate their movements and to express themselves through the medium of dance. Much is accomplished by our versatile girls' gym teachers.

Volley ball games, such as this one, can be very exciting.

The physical education program for the boys trains them to become men. They are offered many sports in which to participate. Some of the students enter the sports field after they graduate, as did Andy Cary—the Yankee ball player from Alameda High School.

Students are taught teamwork, co-operation, responsibility, and physical fitness by our capable boys' physical education teachers.

Basketball is one of the most popular games in boys' P. E.

VOCATIONAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Vocations Are Learned In School "Shops"

Students who are seen bending over drawing boards, at work on all kinds of strange figures and angles, are more than likely in a mechanical drawing class, training for a possible career after graduation from school.

In auto mechanics, students learn how to fix the mechanical ailments of an automobile by actually getting under the hoods and doing the repairs.

Students work in the electrical shops, woodworking shops, and in all of the industrial arts classes in the same manner, whether developing a hobby or training for after graduation. They are instructed by our very talented industrial arts teachers who prepare them for living in a technical age.

Leathercraft requires concentration.

The office practice classes develop many fine secretaries and stenographers.

Business Courses Are Available To Everyone

Alameda High School can be proud of her Commercial Department which is known to employers all over the country for the finished products it produces. The expert instruction and high standards of work required by the teachers insure a successful career for those who complete the work.

Under this fine guidance, many future secretaries, stenographers, and office workers are launched upon their careers. Alumni have termed their training and experience invaluable for their later work.

It is advisable for students who are planning to go to college to take a year of typing.

Self-Expression Is Encouraged Through Art

ART DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Dorothy Layton and Miss Edna Reichmuth

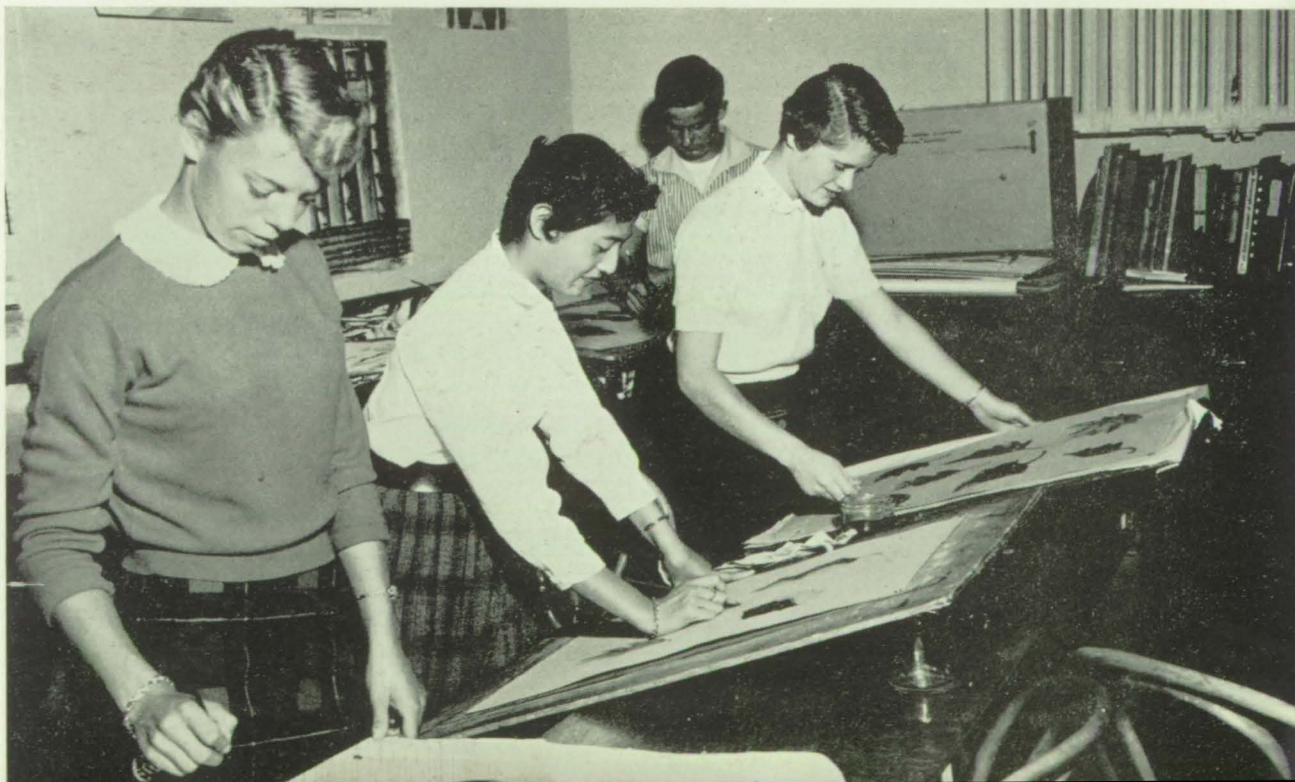

Art is a necessity in everyone's life. To be able to enjoy and appreciate the wonders about you, you need a basic knowledge of art. Art is useful in many ways, from working in commercial art to figuring out the color scheme for your own home.

Students at Alameda High School are taught the fundamentals of color matching as well as how to draw. Such things as figure drawing, portraiture, mural design, and printing techniques are taught to the willing students by our talented and beloved art teachers who help us all to appreciate our world and to brighten our corner of it.

Painting in water colors is one phase in the field of art that is taught to A.H.S. students.

Tomorrow's Homemakers Acquire Needed Skills

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

and Miss Jo Ann Schreiner.

The majority of the girls at Alameda High School will be the homemakers of tomorrow. The Home Economics Department teaches through actual experience the "do's and don't's" of homemaking. The students are instructed by our experienced and capable home ec. teachers.

Everything from how to measure ingredients for a cake, to the correct procedure for a hostess at her own table is taught in the cooking classes. The girls enjoy participating in all of these activities.

Girls in the sewing classes are taught not only how to choose materials, but how to wear their clothes.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

History Is A Guide To A Better Future

History, in all of its forms, is very important to the person who desires to have an accurate understanding of the events taking place now and of how they will affect human life from this point on. In planning for the future, a wise person looks to the past to see how other people have done the job so that stability and growth are preserved.

Taught by our well-educated history teachers, history helps the student to understand why and how he can make this world a better place in which to live. Knowledge of the past can assure us of a hopeful future.

Students learn the history of their country with the aid of maps.

R.O.T.C. Strengthens National Defense

The Alameda High School R.O.T.C. meets during zero period, five days a week. The classes are conducted by Regular Army personnel, assisted by student members of the unit who have completed three years of instruction. The courses taught include small unit tactics, first aid, weapons, map reading, and military organization. There are numerous medals and awards given to the honor students at various levels of instruction and leadership.

The fine instruction given by our R.O.T.C. instructors at Alameda High School has maintained an excellent group consisting of three companies, a color guard, and our school band, all of whom contribute to our school's esprit de corps.

Inspection is a frequent occurrence for which every R.O.T.C. member must be ready.

Alameda High Is Enriched By The Services Of

Mrs. Cadenasso, School Nurse and Mrs. Hemrich, Librarian.

Mrs. Hunter, School Nurse and Mr. Geyer, Driver Training.

Our nurse, Mrs. Hunter, is a very valuable and necessary part of Alameda High School. She takes care of aches, pains, colds, and watches over the general health and welfare of students.

Teaching students to become safe, competent drivers is the aim of our Drivers' Education teacher, Mr. Geyer. Students are taught the rules of the road and are made to abide by these rules in actual driving.

The librarian, Mrs. Hemrich, is always willing to help students find the books to fill their need. She takes care of all of the books, maintaining and expanding one of our most valuable resources, the school library.

Mrs. Hunter is always on hand to put us back together.

Mr. Geyer teaches his students all the fine points of driving.

The care and distribution of the school's textbooks are under the supervision of our textbook clerk; most

KATHI PHILLIPS

The leading players in our fall presentation were as follows: President, "Chuck" Morehouse; Vice-President, Kathi Phillips; Recording Secretary, Bob Scholz; Financial Secretary, Paul Cronenwett; and Yell Leader, Bob Reeves.

Our meetings proved to be very interesting, thanks to Chuck, and the A.C.A.L.-O.A.L. Talent Show was one of the best presented, thanks to Kathi. The weekly minutes added humor to each meeting, and Bob went through the term with no "additions or corrections." Paul made sure that all of us got the lowest possible student rates, and with Bob leading us in yells at the football games, we pulled our team to victory.

The governing board of Alameda High is the Administrative Board. Each term, class and student-body representatives discuss and vote on important matters concerning the school.

In addition to this, the Ad Board presents the semi-annual opening dance. The Vice-President and the Recording Secretary of the Associated Students always take over the starring roles. Working as manager and co-manager of the opening dance, "Slightly Modern," were Bob Scholz and Kathi Phillips. Heading the committees were Judy Barker, Guila

Frazier, Sharon Moody, Joe Abraham, Jeanne Haldi and Jim Aitchison. The main purpose of this dance was to acquaint the freshmen with a portion of the social life at school, and to help them make acquaintances among the "higher scholars."

This term's dance was a great success due to the hard-working Ad Board members.

The Student-Faculty Committee meets every Monday at noon, when they have one main function, to aid the President in obtaining entertainment for our Student Meetings.

The fall Men's and Women's Boards of Control were headed by Hal Zeker and Judy Sabatini, respectively. Working with Hal were Pete Micholetos, Rick Dobbins, Angelo Perata, and Dick Bertero. Assisting Judy were Carol Torpy, Sue Hanson, Judy Deppen, and Nancy Foss.

The Boards had a busy term keeping the students in order at student meetings and football games, and in keeping our school clean. Students who break the school rules and regulations are brought in front of the boards, and the offenders are either warned or punished.

There are 24 members on each board: seven high seniors, seven low seniors, five high juniors, and five low juniors. At the end of an active term, the men's board had a delicious dinner at Mr. Bell's house, and the women's board enjoyed an appetizing pot-luck supper at Mrs. Hoeksema's home.

Odori-Mashyo! or as they say in Japan, "Let's dance!" And dance we did. We all danced at the great Junior Prom, "East of the Moon." A little bit of the Orient was brought into our gym on the night of this gala affair, and the dance proved to be a great success.

Under the able management of Don Dela Riva and Gail Andrus, the committees worked efficiently to make this dance one of the best Junior Proms ever.

Heading the committees were Shirley Hasund, Judy Kriens, Gary Farwell, Judy Towata, Kathy Brown, Susan Anderson, and Wayne Stanley.

For anyone who had ever been to the Orient, the decorations and posters must have brought a feeling of nostalgia. A beautiful pagoda fronted by an artificial pool comprised the major part of the decorations for this momentous occasion.

Fall Dances Have Successful Runs

On a very appropriate Columbus Day, the high sophomores presented their whale of a Soph Hop, "Anchors Aweigh." The gym was overflowing with land lubbers and sea dwellers, and they all were sailing along smoothly.

The whole crew worked hard to rig this dance, especially the captains, Paul Hanson and Deann Gardiner. Also deserving credit were Phyllis Nelson, Carol Von Berckefeldt, Evelyn Maroulas, Sandra Winsby, Gary Gambetta, Carol Maritzen, Linda Spector, and Janet Dungan.

None of the lucky people who bought passports for this trip were disappointed. The attractive bids, posters, and decorations were enough to make any one take to the sea. The music was supplied by records, and although they didn't have fish and chips, the refreshments were very good.

A few doctors were on hand in case that anyone felt a little seasick, but fortunately, no cases were reported. We could tell by the smiling wind-blown faces after the dance that everyone had had a "Bon Voyage."

Evie and Mr. Palmer argue while Johnny looks on.

The Palmer family reads the Sunday paper after church.

The "First Nighters" came pouring into the lobby of A.H.S. on the opening night of the famous Senior Play, Turn Back the Clock. The next morning, the critics acclaimed it as "a riot." And it was.

A rollicking comedy about the "flapper era," and our preceding generation's trials and tribulations, Turn Back the Clock was presented by the low senior class of June '57.

Many a time we've heard our parents scold, "when I was your age . . .," and now we had a glimpse of just what they did when they were our age.

The story revolves around Evie Palmer and the conflict between her two worthless beaux, Johnny Stone and Charley Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer don't like either boy, and the audience doesn't know whom Evie marries until the surprise ending. Besides love-sick Evie, there are a couple of "flapper" girls, Phyllis and Maybelle, who add to the fun.

Evie's brother Larry, who has just been asked to leave college because of his unruly behavior when he swallowed a goldfish, and loveable little Sally, who enjoys chaperoning parties are also part of the Palmer family. And love-stricken Irene adds fun to the plot.

All in all, it was a heartwarming and hysterical play.

Sally does the charleston while Mr. and Mrs. Palmer watch.

Charlie unsuccessfully tries to explain his car breakdown to the Palmers.

SEVENTEEN Plays To Enthusiastic Audience

Biennially, an operatta is presented at A.H.S. This year the operetta was Seventeen, a musical comedy based on the novel by Booth Tarkington. It was presented on May 10th and 11th in our auditorium.

The story takes place in Indiana in 1907. With its lively songs, dances, and good cheer, it tells the story of moonstruck Willie Baxter who has fallen in love with cute, flirtatious Lola Pratt, in the country for a summer visit. We follow the young people through a summer filled to the brim with fun!

The star-studded cast included approximately one hundred talented students. The double cast main roles were:

Willie Baxter	Richard Hoisington
	Richard Hughett

The usherettes, under the capable management of Kathy Taylor and Carolyn Jacobs, had a very busy year ushering, with the help of the R.O.T.C., for the Fall and Spring Graduations, the Fathers' Follies, Arsenic and Old Lace, and Seventeen.

In the spring the members had many enjoyable meetings where they planned the activities for the spring and fall semesters. In the fall semester, the club drew up a constitution and a charter. This entitled the organization to be a fully-fledged club, to collect dues, to conduct meetings once a month, and to elect financial and recording secretaries.

Star Performers In Our Spring Events

BOB SCHOLZ
President

GUILA FRAZIER
Vice-President

Working together as a unit, our Spring Student Body officers proved to be one of the best cabinets ever chosen.

Bob Scholz did a commendable job of heading the student body, and with our capable and efficient Veep, Guila Frazier, attended various functions. Our secretaries were Don Bell and Dan Rueda. Don kept up to date with his weekly minutes, and Dan worked hard collecting money, paying bills, and securing student rates for us. As our yell leader, Joe Abraham not only kept up our school spirit, but also started a pep club.

Congratulations, officers, for a job well done! A.H.S. is proud of you.

The speaker of the Ad Board this term was Bob Randall. Assisting him were Steve Smith, Sue Church, and Butch Hoisington. At the meetings important bills were voted on, and suggestions from the suggestion box were discussed.

Guila Frazier and Don Bell managed the opening dance, "Young at Heart," February 15. The cupids helping the head heart-throbs were Judy Hart, bids; Susan Church, publicity; Butch Hoisington, decorations; Leah Reid, skit; Emily Elfers, music; and Steve Smith, refreshments. There was a large attendance at the dance, proving its success.

At the Student-Faculty Committee meetings, the members voted on the type of entertainment to be secured for our student meetings, and then they helped Bob obtain it. Working together, Bob and the committee secured some of the most outstanding entertainment ever presented.

The Women's and Men's Boards of Control in the Spring term were headed by Ann Russum and Palmer Moody, respectively. Also serving as officers were Nancy Foss, Sue Longaker, Judy Kriens, and Judy Deppen, Women's Board; and Alex Znoj, Phil Plant, John Allen, and John King, Men's Board.

All the members of the boards worked hard to keep "law and order" at our school. Although quite a few citations were issued, our school benefited by the hard work of these two boards.

Citations are issued for the following offenses: jaywalking, littering, negligent driving, disorderly conduct, and cutting. This term the boards really clamped down on the display of over-affection and litter-bugging. Many people underwent the embarrassment of being called down in front of the boards, but they learned their lesson. Everyone could see the improvement in the halls and around the school.

MEN'S BOARD OF CONTROL—FRONT ROW: J. Allen, D. Sherratt, A. Znoj, P. Moody, P. Plant, J. King, C. Hooper. ROW II: B. Kellogg, G. James, R. Blunden, B. McNulty, D. Hay, L. Archer. ROW III: R. JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN—FRONT ROW: C. Christman, J. Maillot, C. Herraz. ROW II: L. Romanoff, B. Boller, C. Hooper, J. Rosser.

In the spotlight on April 5 was one of the most successful productions presented in the spring term. This fabulous feature was the semi-annual Junior Prom. This term the class of June '58 used a Dutch theme for its prom. It was called "Isle of Our Dreams." The unusual theme was suggested by Lynda Romanoff.

The class chose Jeff Berman as director of this affair, and Patt Strickler was chosen as his assistant.

Heading the staffs were Cathy Christmann, decorations; Judy Maillot, bids; Chris Hooper, publicity; Dominic Ferro, music; Bill Boller, skit; Connie Herranz, refreshments; and Jack Rosser, reception.

This dance had a very successful run, and the people who attended were overwhelmed by the artistic sets, the fabulous sound track, and the delicious refreshments. Everyone congratulates the high junior class for a wonderful presentation.

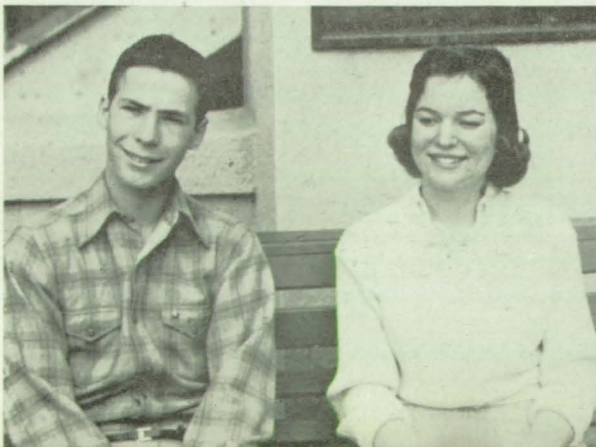

Spring Dances Mark High Point Of Season

The Soph Hop is one of the highlights of the four years of high school. Each class looks forward to this event, and the class of June '59 was no exception. The high sophomores proudly presented their Soph Hop, "Topsy Turvy," on April 26. The confused managers were Bob Mowery and Debbie White, and the committee heads: Marty Ketels, advertising; Bill Santos, reception; Anne Lamb, music; Joan Friedrich, publicity; Jean Roderick, refreshments;

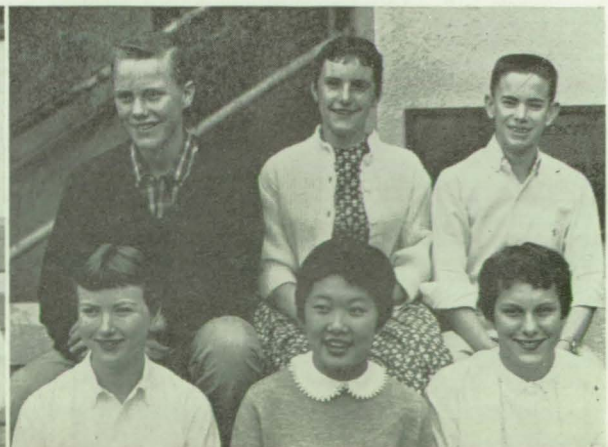

Ann Yamashata, bids; and Tom Vetleson, skit. They were all in a turmoil over the preparations for the dance. Their chaos was worthwhile, however, because the dance was one of the most outstanding activities of the Spring term.

Everyone who attended the dance agreed that it was an outstanding dance. The bids, decorations, and posters carried out the unusual theme, and the skit, music and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

SPRING SOPH HOP—Chairman Bob Mowery and Co-Chairman Debbie White.

Jonathan ties up Mortimer while Einstein awaits with a gag.

The low senior players presented their Senior Play, Arsenic and Old Lace, on March 15 and 16.

The three-act comedy by Joseph Kesselring was a great success. It concerned two sweet old ladies who felt it was their duty to kill lonely old men. The two elderly sisters, Abby and Martha Brewster, lived with their "not-too-normal" nephew, Teddy, and Teddy's normal brother, Mortimer Brewster.

The unusual household was going along very well until Mortimer, who was engaged to Elaine Harper, the minister's daughter, heard of his aunts' charity (killing old men).

The humorous plot revolved around dead bodies, poisoned wine, policemen, and Teddy Roosevelt.

The players all deserved Oscars for their outstanding performances. Mr. Sisler picked a perfect cast, and he did a wonderful job of directing this play with the help of Judie Hines, who was student director.

Alameda was proud of the many award-winners this year. They included Bob Scholz, Ann Russum, Joyce Grantham, and Dixie Ames, Bank of America; Lynette Stormer who placed second in the Voice of Democracy contest; and Curt Nelson and Gregory Fox who won the Scholastic Art award for their paintings. Ann Russum honored our school by winning the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award.

of whom either were planning to be teachers, or who just were interested in learning more about this vocation.

Acorn Staff Works To Produce Superior Book

Whenever anyone goes to any kind of presentation, it is necessary to have a program. "You can't tell the players without a program," as the old saying goes.

The ACORN is the program for our presentation. It tells who's who, what's what, and why. Every small part that one plays in this production is recorded in this book.

A lot of work has gone into the ACORN. We had a budget to follow, of course, so we couldn't make the whole book in cinemascope, 3-D, or color (to the dismay of many).

But all the time and work put into the ACORN was an experience. It was educational, interesting, and amusing. It meant so much to know that we were playing such an important part for our school, and that we were doing something that gave us pleasure, and that would eventually please others.

The whole staff hopes that you will enjoy this year's ACORN, and we all urge eligible students to join the next staff and work on this wonderful book. We promise you many happy moments, and we know you will enjoy such a gratifying experience.

Oak Leaf Provides Full Coverage Of Activities

SUE ANDERSON
Editor

In the fall semester, the busy Oak Leaf Staff traveled to different schools for press conferences and conventions. Part of the staff attended a conference at Stanford University where they discussed aspects of press techniques. Later in the term the staff attended a press conference presenting different views on tuberculosis and the ways to keep people aware of its ever-present danger to mankind.

MISS GRACE POWERS
Faculty Adviser

In the spring the staff worked hard to produce more editions than had been edited in the preceding term. The first issue was distributed much earlier than had been the case previously.

Miss Grace Powers, faculty adviser, and Susan Anderson, Editor, did a fine job of supervising the efficient Oak Leaf staff in their outstanding coverage of school news.

Several members of each group attended a music convention at C.O.P. along with a few members of the choir. All members of the band and orchestra enjoyed their active terms, and everyone enjoyed their wonderful music. Their fine work was a credit to Mr. Carlton Hanson and Mr. Vidler.

In September, 1953, the curtain went up, and on the big stage appeared the class of June Nineteen-fifty-seven for the first time. Dan Rueda, with his cabinet, Steve Smith, Mary Lueras, Ray Sheriff, Karen Page, Sarah Decker and John Cheadle, shone in the spotlight for our first dance, "School Daze."

The next scene saw us under the capable leadership of Bob Scholz, Steve Smith, John Allen, Rich Hoisington and Pat Bayley. Another successful dancant, "1B Jamboree," was held and our Fun Day project was the selling of sandwiches.

Ray Sheriff and Bette Barker stole the show in our low sophomore term, as we presented "'Twas the Dance Before Christmas." The other officers were Gail Von Berckefeldt, Phil Plant, Sarah Decker, Don Snyder and Marcia Battersby.

Giving outstanding performances in our high sophomore term were Dan Rueda, Ann Russum, Guila Frazier, Joe Abraham, and Sue Reed. The cast of the Soph Hop, "Spring Fever," our first major production, starred Don Snyder and Bette Barker. Rich Hoisington on bid sales; Ann Roesch on bids; John King and Palmer Moody on publicity; Judy Hart, music; Sue Longaker, reception, and John Allen and Judy Deppen on skit, were featured heading the committees.

In the second act of our presentation we saw ourselves as low juniors. The leaders were portrayed by Don Snyder, Judy Deppen, John Allen, Nancy Foss, Gail Von Berckefeldt, Dick Bertero and Guila Frazier. We sold football programs at one of our big games, and during this term our class cards were designed.

FALL OFFICERS

We made our entrance on the stage of Alameda High School as excited and ambitious low freshmen in February, 1954. Our first cabinet was elected, and Rich Blunden, Gail Andrus, Sharon Moody, John Skinner, Judy Kriens, Kiyoko Sato, and Don Bell served as our officers. We soon found ourselves bustled into our first activity. We sold cake as our Fun Day project, managed by Rich Blunden.

Soon we were high freshmen, and Wayne Stanley, Sue Church, Barbara Peterson, Ellen Grimshaw, and Eileen Wachtel were chosen to represent our troupe as we gave a noon dance, "Flight of the 1B's".

Next appeared Gail Andrus who, along with Kiyoko Sato, Don Bell, Connie Stagnero, Judy Towata, Ethelyn Jenkins, and Rich Blunden, staged another successful noon dance, "Come 2A Dancant." Our Soph Hop was the highlight of our high sophomore activity. Under the direction of officers Don Bell, Sharon Moody, Sue Anderson, Eileen Wachtel, and Joyce Dupree, we presented "Unexpected," managed by Wayne Stanley and Sue Church. Working with them were Kathy Brown and Huston Marlow, publicity; Joan Halkett and Barbara Peterson, bids; Judy Hines and Rich Blunden, skit; Gary Farwell, decoration; Ethelyn Jenkins, music; Sue Anderson, reception; and Connie Stagnero, refreshments.

We were upper classmen before we knew it, and our officers were Rich Mutch, Barbara Peterson, and their cabinet, Ellen Grimshaw, Gail Andrus, Kathy Brown, Judy Kriens, and Bob McNulty. Fun Day rolled around, and once again we sold cake.

SPRING OFFICERS

We were seen the following semester in our attractive charcoal sweaters. The committee was ably managed by Rich Wolff and Eileen Wachtel.

This was the time for the Junior Prom and we presented the exotic "East of the Moon". Our dance proved a great success, due to the hard work of managers Don Dela Riva and Gail Andrus and their committees headed by Shirley Hasund, bids; Gary Farwell and Judy Towata, decorations; Barbara Peterson, publicity; Sue Anderson and Kathy Brown, music; Ethelyn Jenkins, reception; Wayne Stanley, skit.

We were seniors at last, and Bob McNulty resumed the responsible role of leadership. Our other elected officers were Barbara Peterson, Sue Anderson, Darlene Hoglund, Carol Smith, Judy Towata, and Rich Wolff.

It was a time of excitement, as our Senior Play grew near. Manager Bob Mason and Co-Manager Kathy Brown announced we would present Arsenic and Old Lace. The committee heads were publicity, Connie Stagnero; advanced sale tickets, Bill Hemp-hill; costumes, Eleanor Eis; properties, Shirley Gillard; programs, Nancy Bradt; make-up, Georgia Larsen; and Judie Hines, student director.

We are so thankful for the guidance of Mrs. Tham, Miss Hays, Mr. Berges, Mr. Freeman, and Mr. Pearson, our advisers.

We have completed all but our final term at Alameda High School, and we soon shall be seen to be as busy high seniors as other high seniors have been in the past. We are ready to make our exit from A.H.S. with humility and confidence.

High Juniors Will Be In Spotlight Next Year

During its 3A term, the class of June 1958 sold football programs at the Alameda-El Cerrito game. This activity proved to be very successful financially and helped to boost the class treasury.

Outstanding among the events of the year was the Junior Prom, "Isle of Our Dreams," which was held on April 5, 1957. Its Dutch theme was carried out in the bids and decorations. Jeff Berman and Patt Strickler worked hard in their roles of manager and co-manager. They were very capably assisted by their chairmen who were Lynda Romanoff, theme; Connie Herranz, refreshments; Jack Rosser, reception; Dominic Ferro, music; Bill Boller, skit; Cathy Christmann, decorations; Chris Hooper, publicity.

As high juniors, they also looked forward to wearing their Junior sweaters. Hank Pond was manager and Judy Hartwig, co-manager of this event. Light blue ivy-league sweaters were chosen by the class.

Low Juniors Close Activities With Drag Movie

As high sophomores, the class of January 1959 looked forward to its Soph Hop. At its two successful class meetings much was accomplished in getting the dance started. "Anchor's Aweigh" was chosen as the theme for this dance that was presented on Columbus Day. Paul Hanson, manager, and Deann Gardiner, co-manager, outdid themselves to make this event a success. They were ably assisted by their committee heads who were as follows: Gary Gambetta, publicity; Carol Von Berckefeldt, posters; Phyllis Nelson, bids; Sandra Winsby, music; Janet Dungan and Betty Cowart, reception; and Carol Von Berckefeldt, decorations.

This enthusiastic class plunged into its 3A term with even more spirit than it had had in its 2B term. On Wednesday, February 20, 1957, it presented a noon movie. The movie on the subject of drag races was just one more successful venture of this class.

Linda Spector, Phyllis Nelson, Deann Gardiner, and Janet Dungan look at bids for "Anchors Aweigh."

High Sophomores Win Applause For Soph Hop

To start out its 2A term, the class of June, 1959, produced a noon dance. This dance was held to raise money for the expenses of their Soph Hop. The dance, "Green Door," was very successful in that $31.00 was made.

As High Sophomores the semi-annual Soph Hop was put before them. This class, as it had always done previously, went all-out to make this dance one to remember. The Soph Hop was one of the most successful dances of the year.

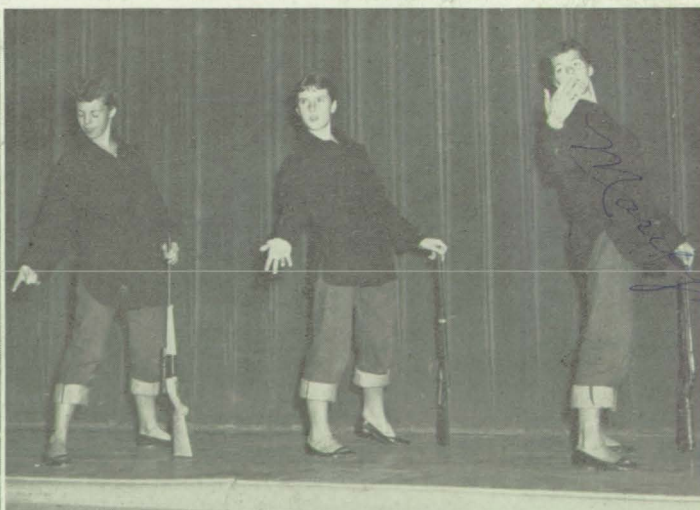

Bob Mowery was elected manager and Debbie White the co-manager. The committee heads were advertising, Marty Ketels; reception, Bill Santos; music, Anne Lamb; publicity, Joan Fredrich; refreshments, Jean Roderick; bids, Ann Yamashta; and skit, Tom Vettleson.

"Topsy Turvy" was chosen to be the name of this dance, and the theme was carried out in the bids and decorations.

Low Sophomores Stage Class Card Sale

As high freshmen, the class of February 1960 held a very interesting class meeting at which they decided to hold a noon dance. The dance, "Hi Noon," was staged on January 9, 1957, in the Alameda High Gym. This noon dance was very unusual in that a band composed of members from Alameda High played for this occasion.

Having finally reached Sophomore status, the class looked ahead to the Soph Hop in their fall term and the fact that they would need money to present this dance. Selling class cards was their money-raising project. These cards were sold for a dime apiece, mainly by the officers who acted as chairmen. They were as follows: Phoebe Moraes, Mary White, Judy Eggers, and Larry Salcedo. Since nearly every person in the class bought a card, this event proved to be very successful. The class spirit promises much for the future.

High Freshmen Display Much Talent

This class started activities by electing as their class officers: Tony Blunden, President; Chris Torpey, Vice-President; Jan Graham, Recording Secretary; Linda Axtell, Financial Secretary; and Corrin Torpey, Yell Leader. A very interesting class meeting, under the leadership of Tony Blunden, was held during their low freshmen term.

As high freshmen, the class elected Chuck Cattran as President and Julie Craig as Vice-President to lead them. During this term a very successful noon dance called "Gym Dandy" was held in the Alameda High School Gym. This dance took place on April 10th, 1957, and was managed by Tony Blunden and Vicki Cannon. Susan Martin was in charge of bids, and Gail Tesio took care of the publicity. The class decided that part of the proceeds of this dance should go to the fund for bringing a foreign student to Alameda for a year.

Low Freshmen Make Successful Entrance

The 1A class made its entrance in February. Their first big event was a political convention and election of officers. The class elected very able leaders who were President, Rusty Slater; Vice-President, Karen Cant; Recording Secretary, Jerrie Lee Jensen; Financial Secretary, Carol Calkins; Yell Leader, Nancy Barreau.

On Wednesday, March 27, 1957, the class held its first money raising activity, a noon dance, "The 1A Hop." This event proved to be very successful and showed that the class would go far in the future.

This class, although small in size, is large in spirit. They have three and a half more years ahead of them at Alameda High, and if they play their parts as well as they have during their first term, they are destined to succeed.

G.A. Completes Year Of Outstanding Activity

The Girls' Association, which includes all girls in the student body, holds a Freshman Reception each term. The fall theme for this function bringing together freshmen, new students, and seniors, was "In the Limelight." "My Fair Lady" was the name of the fall fashion show, in which many of Alameda High's fairest ladies modeled. Concluding the semester, the cabinet gave a Christmas party for Washington School's special class. The spring officers chose "Sweethearts of '61" for their Freshman Reception theme, appropriately held on Valentine's Day. "Artistry in Fashion," the Spring Fashion show, was a huge success and was acclaimed as one of the most outstanding fashion shows.

The Courtesy Board serves Alameda High School in many ways. The girls on the board are always on hand to welcome visitors to the school, and freshmen or new students find that the directions given by Courtesy Board members are very helpful and accurate. In addition to these services, Courtesy Board members act as hostesses at various functions. The girls may always be identified by their ties, which were blue plaid in the fall, and pink in the spring.

At the beginning of each semester the Courtesy Board sells A.H.S. book covers which are displayed on the books of Alameda High students. During the Christmas season all members of the faculty were presented with Christmas angels. At Easter time the showcase in the lobby was beautifully decorated with a cross surrounded by lilies. Each term is concluded with a pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Helen Hocksema.

French Club Has A Joyeux Noel

Large club membership provides talent for enthusiastic meetings.

The French Club has been extremely busy during the past year. At Christmas time the club had an exciting party with many students participating in songs and skits in French. The flower sale, held in the spring, was an occasion enjoyed by everyone at Alameda High. A dinner dance was great fun for all members who attended. A scholarship is now awarded to some outstanding student in French at the time of his graduation.

Spanish Club Enjoys Banquet

Spanish Club members enjoy a Mexican dinner.

This year the Spanish Club was fortunate in having a student from Mexico as an honorary member. In this way, the club was able to learn much, and to ask questions about the schools in Mexico. A wonderful Mexican dinner, which was served by a local restaurant, was much fun and very delicious. It was held in one of the classrooms at A.H.S. The Spanish Club meetings are always entertaining and often include community sings.

Moments after the Encinal game, triumphant Hornets give Chuck Butler the chair of honor.

Fast moving Jim Burrell bucks for yardage in spirited El Cerrito game.

The Alameda Hornets, in their 1956 Football Season, did the impossible. They turned in a record of nine smashing victories and, in so doing, shattered many standing High School records. When the last game had been played and the statistics were totaled, the Hornets were hailed as the greatest Northern California team in history.

The Hornets piled up a total of 289 points as opposed to 20 for their opponents.

This record-breaking season of Alameda cannot be attributed to the action of any one player, but must be credited to the whole team of 33 players and the marvelous work of their coaches, Chuck Butler, Forrest Klein, Marvin Pearson and Don Rogers.

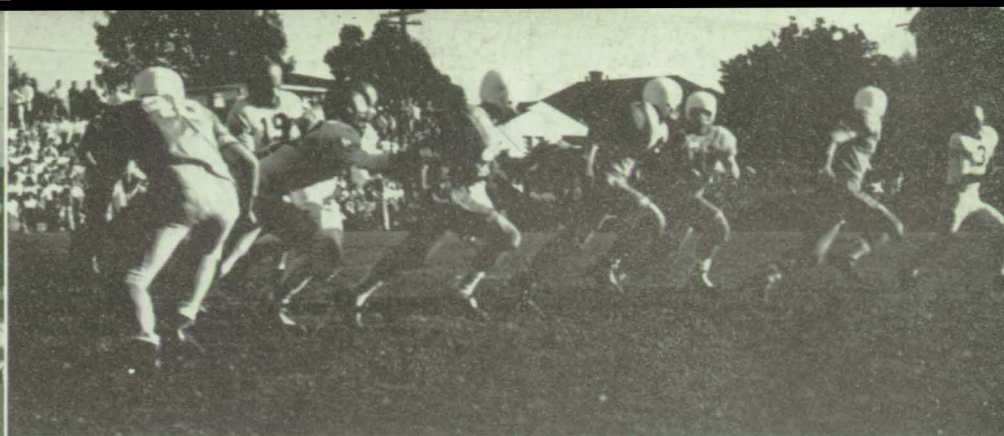

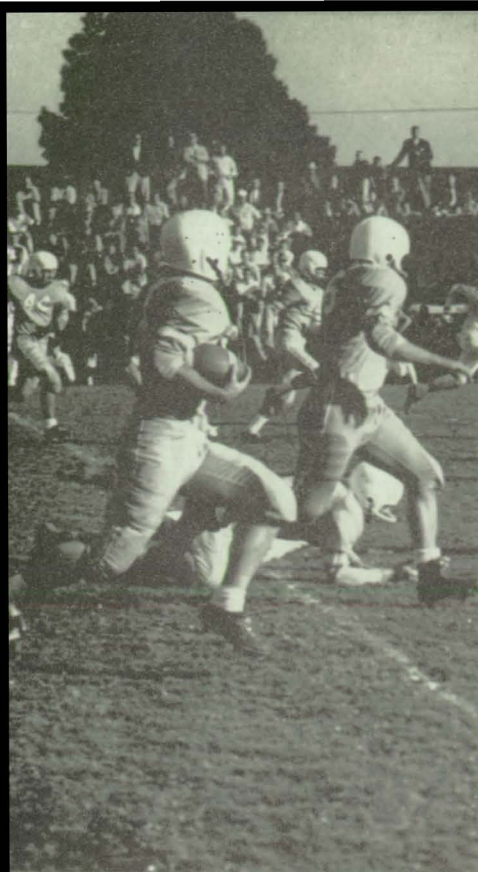

The most thrill-packed game of the season was played with our cross-town rival, Encinal. Although the Hornets whipped the Jets by a score of 26 to 7, the action was the best, witnessed all season. In the last part of the third quarter the A.H.S. rooting section stared in amazement at the scoreboard as it indicated that we were trailing by 7-6. For the first time in the season, our jam-packed rooting section yelled, "We gotta win, we gotta win, let's go!!" From that time on it was all Alameda.

At the close of the season the All-A.C.A.L. team was chosen and Alameda contributed six men, two of whom received offense and defense honors. The Hornets chosen All-A.C.A.L. were Rick Dobbins, Glen Harradine, Chuck Morehouse, Dick Bertero, Len Nikolai and Dan Rueda. As most valuable players the Hornets chose Jim Burrell and Pete Michelatos.

Now that our football season is far, far behind us, it is interesting to look back on one of our first student meetings of the fall semester in which we heard Coach Butler say that each team we would encounter would out-weight us, man for man, by several pounds, but if we, the students of Alameda High, would give our full-fledged support to our team, the championship would be within our grasp, as it surely was.

Chuck Butler came to Alameda High during February of 1953. Since then he has brought honor to the name of Alameda on several occasions. Twice he has guided the Hornet Varsity into the A.C.A.L. championship and twice he has landed them in second place. To those who know him, Chuck Butler is a man who possesses characteristics of humbleness, and patience, but one who is constantly striving for perfection. These traits, mixed in the right proportions, enable him to turn out outstanding teams each season. As long as A.H.S. has Chuck Butler it will win its share of championships.

J.V. And Soph-Frosh Squads Have Bright Future

The Junior Varsity, under the expert coaching of Don Rogers, duplicated last year's total of four games won and four games lost. With much hard work the team steadily progressed until, finally, at the termination of the season, it had developed into a well-unified and smoothly-organized group. From all indications the J.V.'s will return next year as a very valuable asset to the Varsity.

The Soph-Frosh football team, ably managed by Marvin Pearson, encountered a bit of bad weather this season. Although they lost the majority of their games, sportsmanship, co-operation, and a sense of unity were gained. Coach Pearson found to his delight that he was coaching the largest football squad in our school's history: 79 boys came out for Soph-Frosh practice.

Henry Jones, our hard-working basketball coach, came to Alameda High twelve years ago. In that period of time his teams have won the A.C.A.L. crown six times. Coach Jones, besides teaching basketball techniques, stresses sportsmanship and teamwork, the two most essential qualities of any team. With Henry Jones at the helm our basketball future looks bright.

The Varsity, though not in the winning column, showed tremendous spirit and sportsmanship in their games. More than once the Hornets put on a thrilling rally near the end of the game that brought the gold and white rooting section to its feet.

The midseason graduation put down the team's membership by three players: Jim Burruss, Terry Harrison, and Pat Morely. The loss of these three vital Hornets acted as a stimulus that drove the team even harder.

Although the Hornet fans witnessed many thrill-packed games, the most action studded interest was that with our new-found rival, Encinal. Alameda took an early lead and held it until the second half when the strength and endurance of the Jets really began to flower. From that point on, it was all Encinal. Perhaps the individual high point of the season occurred in the Piedmont game when Archie Martinez sank two free throws in the last 15 seconds to win for Alameda.

If A.H.S. should endure through time eternal, she could never send on to the basketball court a more spirited and sportsmanlike team than that of 1957.

Junior Varsity Finishes Strong Season

The Hornet's Junior Varsity experienced a truly great season this year by winning approximately 90% of their games. Some of the team's standouts were Tom Henderson, Dan Lufkin, Steve Long, Willie Andrews, and Stu Stephens.

Having worked together last year, the squad began its '57 season as a fairly smooth and swiftly moving machine. For proof of this, one need only look at the scores of its games.

It is reassuring to know that Marvin Pearson's '57 J.V. squad will next year become Hank Jones's '58 Varsity. With a team like this, how can we lose?

Eddie Evans leaps high to steal a rebound in the Encinal game.

Don Means chalks up two for the Hornets in the Encinal game.

Lew Jolley, retiring after 35 years at A.H.S., has never failed to elevate the name of Alameda in the field of sports. More than a dozen times his teams have won the A.C.A.L. and Northcoast championship, and in 1953, his team brought to A.H.S. the honor of being the only Northern California High School to win the state meet.

Track Team Looks Sharp For Retiring Coach

The Varsity Track squad began their '57 season with the hope that they would rack up a pretty good competitive year. These optimistic predictions stemmed from the fact that the team had an extremely strong and experienced nucleus with which to work. Some of these outstanding Hornet trackmen were Bob Scholz, Chuck Patino, John King, Welborne Cotton, Chris Jensen, and Jim Cunningham.

The already strong team was even further strengthened in the middle of the season because of the addition of some boys who had been out for basketball or were delayed for some other reason. Some of these middle-season men were Don Bell, Bill Soderland, and Ed Martinez. This group of boys, when coupled with the formerly mentioned group, added just the right seasoning to bring the 1957 track team to the foe as another "Jolley Winner."

Practice season for the Varsity as well as for the J.V. and other spring athletic activities, was extremely rugged, owing to the fact that A.H.S. had taken on a plan of remodeling and reconstruction. Because of this, much of the track and field facilities was taken up by the "class room" Quonset huts. Despite these obstacles, the Varsity was an excellent unit throughout the season.

The Hornet trackmen, this season, were not only striving to bring honor to Alameda High, but also had an added incentive due to the fact that their coach, Lew Jolley, was retiring after thirty-five years. Although it is true Coach Jolley has had his share of championships, this year's squad was endeavoring to make his last year a really memorable one.

J.V. Cindermen Possess Strong Potential

Under the dual coaching of Lew Jolley and Forrest Klein, the J.V. Track squad endeavored to make this season one of the best ever experienced by an Alameda Track team. The team was spearheaded by such outstanding men as Willie Andrews in the 25 and 105 yard relays; Steve Carnahan in the high-jump, broad jump, and relays; Bill Hopkins in the shot-put and discus throw; and Terry Tittle in the 75 and 150 yard relays.

Having a full schedule of meets with other A.C.A.L. J.V. squads, our own team practiced many long, hard hours on our somewhat shrunken track and field. Never once were the spirits of the boys broken because they knew that a good team must endure in spirit to be able to succeed physically.

Elias Totah heaves the 16-pound shot.

Calder Hayes, an eight year member of the A.H.S. faculty, has become known to us as our good-natured and witty baseball coach. As a result of his tremendous effort, Alameda has always sent a well co-ordinated and well-trained squad onto the diamond. Twice his teams have captured second place honors in the A.C.A.L.

Alameda High, this year, has produced the baseball team that was given the title of "sleeper of the league." This meant that our chances did not appear to be very good, but as is the case with every "sleeper," we were more determined to wake up and be the "keeper of the league."

In the infield, A.H.S. had Steve Smith at first base, Paul Vivion at second base, Dan Lufkin and Barry Frost at third base and Don Sherratt at shortstop.

In the outfield, Alameda claimed Dan Rueda in center field, Archie Martinez in right field and Moto Yamamoto and Lee Archer in left field. Last but not least was our battery consisting of Sam Duncan, Bill Hirst, Ed Evans and Curt Nelson on the mound and Don Snyder and Dave Neave behind the plate.

On March 19 the Hornets met and beat the Hayward nine by a score of 4-3 in an "action packed" game at Lincoln Park.

J.V. Baseball Squad Makes Good Showing

The Junior Varsity Baseball squad met with the same impediments that have hindered so many of Alameda High's spring sports: rain, mud and poor practice grounds. Despite this fact, the J.V. appeared to be a very sharp, unified and well-managed team. Coach Rogers said that he foresaw a fairly successful season ahead, but when asked if he could point out any really up-and-coming hopefuls, he said that it was too early in the season to predict individual greatness in the team. At Acorn press time no league game had been played, but we are sure that the team will give its opponents plenty of competition.

Swimming Creates Interest And Enthusiasm

Swimming, Alameda High's newest athletic activity, has created such a wave of enthusiasm that Coach Chuck Butler has been compelled to organize a J.V. team this year, in addition to the Varsity. With two teams representing Alameda High in her second swimming season, hopes were high and chances were good that the Hornets would secure the first rung on the A.C.A.L. ladder. Alameda's tank men racked up a win the team's first time out, beating El Cerrito by a margin of 19 points. Alameda has now taken to the water; will she ever take to the air?

FRONT ROW:—J. Collins, F. Castle. ROW II:—G. Means, B. Betterton, P. Lamasney, M/Sgt. Brown.

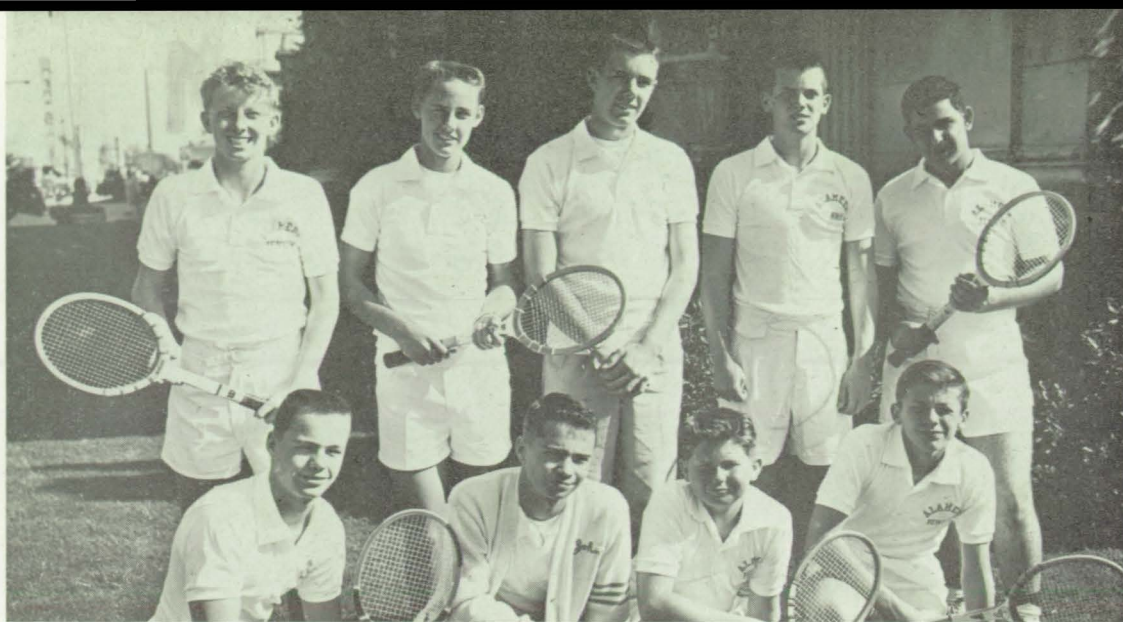

Golf, Rifle, And Tennis Enthusiasts

The Rifle Team was greatly hampered this past season due to the fact that its rifle range had been demolished along with the Language Building in the fall of 1956. Although no new members were recruited from the ranks of the R.O.T.C., last year's squad still engaged in a few meets. Practices were held in an Oakland range.

The A.H.S. Golf Team, coached by Lew Jolley, followed the trends of all Alameda High athletic teams by working hard and showing the good sportsmanship that is symbolic of our school teams. With three veterans returning to the course and clubs, this year's unit turned in a good record and gave opposing teams much competition.

GOLF TEAM—FRONT ROW:—G. Plato, G. Hamilton, M. Ketels. BACK ROW:—K. Cummings, L. Schmitz, G. Yeltman, B. Erdahl.

Render Strong Competition To Opponents

Our hardworking Tennis Team foresaw a fairly bright season ahead of it this year, but as was the case last year, two great obstacles loomed in front of it: Berkeley and Piedmont. Under the coaching of Hank Jones, the team experienced very successful practices at Franklin, Krusi, and Lincoln Parks. The matches were played at the Lincoln and Washington courts.

The lifeline of all Alameda High athletic teams is student support. Although we have always had an extremely capable group of yell leaders and pom-pom girls, their job cannot be a success unless they have an enthusiastic rooting section. It is not only the major sports that benefit from school support; it is all sports, major and minor. Give your teams your support.

Modern Dance Club Performs In School Shows

Modern dance is a popular and enjoyable activity of Girls' P.E., which offers a way to interpret music, learn dance skills, and acquire graceful movements. It is becoming even more popular, as shown by the large number of girls who participate in it.

When they have learned the basic steps and patterns, the girls go into Advanced Modern Dance, where they create their own dances for various performances. These include the G.A. Fashion Shows, School Operettas, Freshman Receptions, Christmas Pageants, and many outside programs.

These activities create a great enthusiasm for the Modern Dance Club, of which all the girls in Advanced Modern Dance can be members, and they may attend a Master Lesson by a recognized leader in the field of dancing.

Form, rhythm, and beauty of styling are emphasized in the modern dance classes.

It is a privilege to belong to the Girls' Athletic Association sixth period P.E., and to take part in the many sports not offered in the other physical ed. classes. Such sports as tennis, bowling, crew, and many others are offered to these girls.

Along with this, the girls, under the direction of their cabinet and faculty, have Fudge and Pencil sales, which the entire school enjoys, and play days, so that girls from other schools may be invited to participate in the selected sports.

For participation in these activities and others, the girls earn points for their Block "A." The steps for this award read: 600 points, a circle "A"; 900 points, a winged "A"; and finally 1200 points, a Block "A." These awards are given out at the semi-annual G.A.A. Spread, which ends the term.
